PROXY STATEMENT

The enclosed proxy is solicited by the Board of Directors of Central Garden & Pet Company (the "Company") to be used at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders on February 9, 2004 (the "Annual Meeting"), for the purposes set forth in the foregoing notice. This proxy statement and the enclosed form of proxy were first sent to stockholders on or about December 29, 2003.

If the enclosed form of proxy is properly signed and returned, the shares represented thereby will be voted at the Annual Meeting in accordance with the instructions specified thereon. If the proxy does not specify how the shares represented thereby are to be voted, the proxy will be voted as recommended by the Board of Directors. Any stockholder signing a proxy in the form accompanying this Proxy Statement has the power to revoke it prior to or at the Annual Meeting. A proxy may be revoked by a writing delivered to the Secretary of the Company stating that the proxy is revoked, by a subsequent proxy signed by the person who signed the earlier proxy, or by attendance at the Annual Meeting and voting in person.

VOTING SECURITIES

Only stockholders of record on the books of the Company as of 5:00 P.M., December 22, 2003, will be entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting.

As of the close of business on December 22, 2003, there were outstanding 18,292,418 shares of Common Stock of the Company, entitled to one vote per share, and 1,654,462 shares of Class B Stock of the Company, entitled to the lesser of ten votes per share or 49% of the total votes cast. Holders of Common Stock and Class B Stock will vote together on all matters presented to the stockholders for their vote or approval at the meeting, including the election of directors. Votes cast by proxy or in person at the Annual Meeting will be tabulated by the election inspectors appointed for the meeting and will determine whether or not a quorum is present. The election inspectors will treat abstentions and broker non-votes as shares that are present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum but as unvoted for purposes of determining the approval of any matter submitted to the stockholders for a vote. With regard to the election of directors, votes may be cast "For" or "Withhold Authority" for each nominee; votes that are withheld will be excluded entirely from the vote and will have no effect. If a broker indicates on the proxy that it does not have discretionary authority as to certain shares to vote on a particular matter, those shares will not be considered as present and entitled to vote with respect to that matter.

If any of such persons is unable or unwilling to be a candidate for the office of director at the date of the Annual Meeting, or any adjournment thereof, the proxies will vote for such substitute nominee as shall be designated by the proxies. - (2) All options were granted at fair market value at date of grant.
- (3) Realizable values are reported net of the option exercise price. The dollar amounts under these columns are the result of calculations at the 5% and 10% rates (determined from the price at the date of grant, not the stock's current market value) set by the Securities and Exchange Commission and therefore are not intended to forecast possible future appreciation, if any, of the Company's stock price. Actual gains, if any, on stock option exercises are dependent on the future performance of the Common Stock as well as the optionholder's continued employment through the vesting period. The potential realizable value calculation assumes that the optionholder waits until the end of the option term to exercise the option.

The following table sets forth certain information with respect to stock options exercised during fiscal 2003 and stock options held by each of the Company's executive officers as of September 27, 2003. The closing price of the Company's Common Stock on the last trading day of the fiscal year was $25.03 per share.

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

To the Board of Directors:

As members of the Compensation Committee, it is our duty to determine the compensation for officers and directors and to administer the Company's equity incentive plans. In addition, we evaluate the performance of management and related matters.

As a public company, we use three primary tools to compensate executives. They are base salary, cash bonus, and stock options. Together they combine to provide an executive's total compensation package. We view base salary as a primary indicator of the market value needed to attract an executive with the skill and expertise to perform the duties and discharge the responsibilities of the position. We periodically retain outside assistance to counsel us in determining market value. We view cash bonus as a means of rewarding short-term performance which exceeds established goals, and we utilize stock options as a means of linking our executives' long-term benefits to those received by our stockholders.

In fiscal 1999, Mr. Brown, our former Chief Executive Officer, received the cost of living increase granted to all employees which had the effect of increasing his base salary to $410,000—the amount that was paid to him in each of the last four fiscal years. In 2003, we retained the services of a compensation consulting firm to assist in determining the market value compensation for our new Chief Executive Officer, Glenn W. Novotny. Survey data, coupled with performance based peer group evaluations, were utilized to determine competitive short and long-term awards for Mr. Novotny. The data developed indicated that Mr. Novotny's annual base salary should be $600,000. In October 2003, the Compensation Committee increased Mr. Novotny's annual base salary to $630,000.

During fiscal 2003 and based on the Company's performance in fiscal 2002, the Compensation Committee determined to pay a bonus of $300,000 in respect of fiscal 2002 to Mr. Novotny. As in each of the last several years, Mr. Brown again declined to accept any bonus in respect of fiscal 2002. The Compensation Committee did, however, grant options to each of the Company's executive officers, including Mr. Brown and Mr. Novotny.

In determining executive compensation, the Compensation Committee considers, among other factors, the possible tax consequences to the Company and to the executives. However, tax consequences, including but not limited to tax deductibility by the Company, are subject to many factors (such as changes in the tax laws and regulations or interpretations thereof and the timing and nature of various decisions by executives regarding options and other rights) that are beyond the control of either the Compensation Committee or the Company. In addition, the Compensation Committee believes that it is important for it to retain maximum flexibility in designing compensation programs that meet its stated objectives. For all of the foregoing reasons, the Compensation Committee, while considering tax deductibility as one of its factors in determining compensation, will not necessarily limit compensation to those levels or types of compensation that will be deductible. The Compensation Committee will, of course, consider alternative forms of compensation, consistent with its compensation goals, that preserve deductibility.

We continue to subscribe to the philosophy that the Company's overall performance and its return to stockholders will be the primary areas of consideration when rewarding the Company's top executives. It is our goal to ensure that our executives are paid competitively with the market and are rewarded for performance that benefits the stockholders. In years when the Company does well, we will reward using the tools described above; in years when the performance does not meet expectations, the compensation of the top executives of Central will be reflective of that fact.
